The L&L Company continues to support Believe In Tomorrow raising over $280,000 since 1996

For 11 years The L&L Company has sponsored a fund-raising golf tournament for Believe In Tomorrow's Children's House at Johns Hopkins, a family-oriented supportive center for children receiving medical care at the Johns Hopkins Children Center. The L&L Company and others in the building and flooring industry have participated in the tournament since 1996, raising over $280,000.

"It is a rewarding feeling to see so many people support such a wonderful cause. We look forward to putting on this event every year, and to help do something great for the community," said Mike Geisler, President of The L&L Company.

This year's tournament, held on May 16, raised $ 40,000 for the house.

"L&L has been an extraordinary company to work with over the years," said Believe In Tomorrow founder, Brian Morrison. "We are so grateful for their support over the years in helping us fulfill our mission. L&L help set the bar that we all strive to achieve." A special

Jerry Clark, of Grasmick Lumber Co., received a special award in recognition of his continued commitment and dedication to the tournament. Other sponsors for the event included Elias Wilf, Mannington Mills, J J Haines Co., Dixie Home Group, Shaw Mohawk, Grasmick Lumber Co., WearDated/Soluia, Ryan Homes, Gemcraft Homes, and many more.

Founded in 1982, Believe In Tomorrow provides exceptional hospital and retreat housing services to critically ill children and their families. Keeping families together during a child's medical crisis, and the gentle cadence of normal family life has a powerful influence on the healing process. Believe In Tomorrow's Children's House at Johns Hopkins, created in 1993, serves children and families receiving care at the Johns Hopkins Children Center. The house creates a home environment with the help and dedication of volunteers and donors. Visit www.believeintomorrow.org for more information.
